The Head Man

A versatile gentleman and scholar is Dr. Robert B. House, Chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Vice-President of the Consolidated University.

The Chancellor also is actively as well as figuratively, the head man in athletics, to whom all are responsible. This year he will serve as faculty chairman, succeeding Dr. A. W. Hobbs, who retired last spring.

His interests extend to many fields, and in all of them he excels. It has been that way ever since his student days at the University when he was first honor man in his class, president of Phi Beta Kappa, active YMCA worker, inter-collegiate debater, editor of the Carolina Magazine, winner of the Eben Alexander prize in Greek, Class Poet, and a member of the campus' highest honor society, the Golden Fleece.

Possessor of a happy combination of wit, genius and geniality, Chancellor House is regarded as a most capable administrator. He is also rated tops as a public speaker, Sunday School teacher, harmonica player, and square dancer.

He was the students' first choice for Dean of Administration at Chapel Hill when the consolidation program was effectuated by the 1931 Legislature.

A native of Halifax County, where his father, the late J. A. House, was sheriff for many years, Bob House was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1916 and from Harvard with a Master's Degree in 1917. Catawba College (1939) and Powdoin College (1948) have conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

During World War I he saw front line service in France as a first lieutenant.

Prior to his appointment as Executive Secretary of the University in 1926, Chancellor House taught at Greensboro High School in 1919, served as Secretary and Archivist of the North Carolina Historical Commission from 1919 to 1926, taught history at State College during two summer sessions, and was a member of the Public Archives Commission of the American Historical Association in 1921.

After serving as right hand man to two University Presidents, Chancellor House was elected by the Trustees Dean of Administration in 1934 soon after the consolidated program went into effect. He was elected Chancellor of the University at Chapel Hill in 1945.

Chancellor House married Miss Hattie Palmer of Warrenton and their son, Robert Burton House, Jr., took his undergraduate degree at the University of North Carolina, graduated in Law at Harvard, and was practicing in Washington, D. C., at the time of his death in 1953. Their daughter, Caroline Twitty, is married to William E. Stewart, an attorney and Judge of Recorder's Court in Chapel Hill.

About Carolina

Location: Chapel Hill, N. C.

Transportation: To reach Chapel Hill by train, the preferred way is to take the Seaboard Airline into Raleigh, 30 miles distant. Frequent, direct bus service is available from Raleigh to Chapel Hill. Durham, eleven miles away, is on a branch line of the Southern railroad.

By air, book passage to Durham-Raleigh airport, which is provided excellent service by Eastern, Capital and Piedmont airlines. Airport is located 17 miles from Chapel Hill. Limousine service to both Durham and Raleigh. Frequent bus service between Durham and Chapel Hill.

Private planes should land at Chapel Hill's own airport, two miles from town, not on airlines.

Hotels: Carolina Inn in Chapel Hill, Washington Duke and Malbourne at Durham, Sir Walter and Carolina at Raleigh largest and most modern. Modern nearby motels include University Lodge, Chapel Hill; Eden Rock and Homestead, Durham (between Chapel Hill and Durham). Press urged to make own reservations if possible. Sports Information Office will render every assistance, however, when called upon. Reservations should be made well in advance.

Founded: 1795, officially chartered in 1789 as state university.

Enrollment: 7,000 (5,500 men, 1,500 women).

Stadium: Kenan Memorial, capacity 43,971.

Nickname: Tar Heels. Adopted because North Carolinians as natives are known as Tar Heels. The nickname was applied to the area's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. Tar and turpentine were in abundance in the state at that time. Legend has it that British generals noticed barefooted natives with tar on their heels and first applied the nickname.

Colors: Carolina blue and white.

Mascot: A ram. First introduced in 1924.

Band: 100-piece marching band.

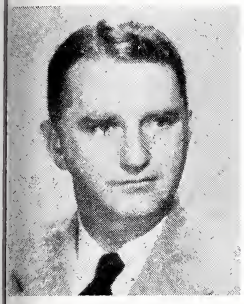
Chuck's Busy Man

Charles P. (Chuck) Erickson, who heads the comprehensive athletic program at the University of North Carolina, is one of the nation's outstanding Athletic Directors with a reputation for getting things done. He's a busy man.

Connected in one way or another with athletics at Carolina for more than 20 years, Chuck has been on his present post since June of 1952. He had previously served as Assistant Athletic Director under "Coach Bob" Fetzer when he handled many of the details in the latter's administration. He especially distinguished himself in scheduling high ranking football games, made possible by his popularity and wide connections.



C. P. Erickson

After his graduation in 1931 with a B. S. degree in Engineering, he entered business for two years and then returned to Chapel Hill to work with the Athletic Department. He engaged in field work as a fund raiser and also served on the coaching staff and scouted before a tour with the Navy as a Lieutenant Commander. He moved into Mr. Fetzer's office after his discharge.

Erickson for many years has doubled as Carolina's golf coach and has been outstandingly successful in that field. His teams won Southern Conference championships, both team and individual, in 1952 and 1953, and his golfers were runners-up in both team and individual play in the 1953 NCAA championships. His 1956 team won team and individual titles in the ACC championships with record scores.

He turned out a national champion in Harvie Ward (1949), who later won the British Amateur. He is a former president of the National Golf Coaches Association.

Erickson's interest in golf was directly responsible for construction of the school's own fine 18-hole course and club house, gifts of Mr. A. E. Finley of Raleigh.

Erickson has been chairman of the important ACC television committee, among others, and has served on outstanding NCAA committees. He is one of the best known and most influential of the nation's young Athletic Directors.

Jim's Back Home

A man who is sure to be recorded in football history as one of the great coaches of all time has come back home to guide the gridiron destinies of his beloved alma mater, the University of North Carolina.

James Moore Tatum, 1935 graduate at Carolina, where he was a star tackle and catcher, scaled the heights in his profession during his nine years at the University of Maryland in 1947-55.

James M. Tatum

Shortly before the opening of the 1955 season, the NCAA announced that Jim Tatum had the best 10-year record of any of the nation's active football coaches. This included one year as head coach at Oklahoma, 1946. During that period his teams achieved the phenomenal collection of 76 victories, 19 defeats and six ties. Including last season, when Jim turned out an undefeated team for the third time at Maryland, and his one earlier year as head coach at North Carolina, 1942, his record shows 86 victories, 19 defeats and six ties. No current coach can match it.

Tatum had three undefeated, untied teams at Maryland, five bowl teams and one national champion. He elevated that school from a football shambles into a national power which annually ranked high in the polls. In 1953 he was honored as "Coach of the Year." He has turned out a host of All-Americans, along with many players who became great professional stars.

His office and home are cluttered with trophies and plaques attesting to his proficiency as a man of action and success in his profession. In addition to being once national "Coach of the Year" he has achieved that honor three times in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

A colorful, spectacular and articulate fellow, he is a prodigious worker and superb organizer. He keeps long hours on his job. For recreation, he likes golf best. At the game, characteristically, he sometimes lacks finesse but is powerful and potent.

Although during the off-season he is away from home many days of the year, he is a devoted family man. He is married to the former Edna Sumrell and they have three children: daughters Becky (10) and Reid (2), and son Jimmy (9).

His 1955 Terp team was first in the nation in rushing defense, second in total defense, and shut out four opponents, including Rose Bow entry UCLA.

He was also Athletic Director at Maryland an during his administration a new field house an stadium were built.

A native of McColl, S. C., Tatum is 42 year old. His first coaching was as an assistant at Cor nell under his old Carolina coach, Carl Snavely He returned to Carolina as head coach in 194 then joined the Navy and learned the Split- as Don Faurot's assistant at Iowa Pre-Flight. H was head coach at Jacksonville Naval Air Statio for one season before going to Oklahoma in 194

He has never had a losing team anywhere an he took his Oklahoma team to the 'Gator Bowl fo a 34-14 win over N.C. State. His Bowl record o six games shows four wins, two defeats and on tie.

A coach with an .812 winning percentage fo 11 years will always be in demand for clinics speeches and all-star games. Jim has made th rounds and is still going strong. In 1955, for in stance, his tours to clinics took him coast to coas and to Hawaii, Japan and Alaska.

While at Maryland Tatum, in collaboratio with able assistant Warren Giese, now head coac at South Carolina, wrote a monumental and schol arly book called "Coaching Football and th Split-T." It has gone into many printings and i widely used as a textbook.

Assistant Coaches

EMMETT CHEEK (UNC '48): It was homecoming for Emmett Cheek when he followed Head Coach Jim Tatum to Carolina. Chapel Hill is his home and Carolina is his alma mater. Cheek was a superior lineman under Carl Snavely in the lush years of that coach here. He also had been a guard as a freshman at Carolina in 1941. After completing his career under Snavely, he stayed on and received his Master's in Physical Education in 1950.

Emmett Cheek

Cheek was a line coach and baseball coach at Guilford in 1949 and 1950. Then he joined Tatum at Maryland and was with him there five seasons. He was one of Tatum's first selections to join his staff at Carolina.

At Maryland Cheek and Eddie Teague, also brought here by Tatum, were the Terps' chief scouts. The two wrote and published a fine book on scouting.

He also will work on the field and be assigned to scouting duties. Emmett is married and the Cheeks have a young son.

EDDIE TEAGUE (UNC '44): A brilliant schoolboy football player in his native Washington, D.C., Eddie was a coveted pick by N. C. State to play under Doc Newton and Herman Hickman. He was a three-sport man there and, in 1942, when Jim Tatum had his one-year hitch as war time head coach at Carolina, Teague's perfection at tailback on a "Sally Rand" keep play upset the favored Tar Heels.

Eddie Teague

In 1943 Teague moved to Chapel Hill as a service man in the V-12 program and made the All-Conference team and All-America honorable mention under Tom Young.

Teague got his diploma at UNC in 1943. Following his World War II service, in which he became a Marine captain and served eight months in Korea, he returned to Chapel Hill and in 1947 received his M. A. degree.

He was both head coach and athletic director at Guilford College before Korean service, after which he joined Tatum's staff at Maryland in 1952. Married, one daughter.

ED KENSLER (Maryland '52): A native o Lawrenceville, Ill., handsome Edsel was one o Jim Tatum's prize proteges at Maryland who nov has collected wide coachin experience and is con sidered one of the comer in the business.

Ed Kensler

Ed entered Marylan after being discharged fro the service in 1948. Th former Marine promptl embarked on four brillian years of service with th Terps, playing tackle, guar and center and winning All Conference distinction.

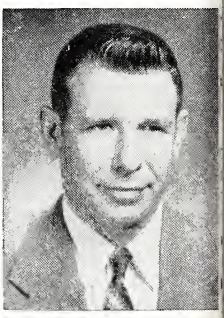
Following his senio year, his finest, he was se lected to play in the Chica go Tribune All-Star game He had starred in the Sugar Bowl.

After his graduation at Maryland, on high recommendation by Tatum, he became a membe of the coaching staff at Washington and Lee.

From there he crossed over to V. M. I. as lin coach and then, last year, was recalled by Tatun to Maryland.

Ed is master of equipment at Carolina in addi tion to being assigned regular coaching duties He is married, has a son and daughter.

PAT PRESTON (Wake Forest '43): Like Eddi Teague, Paddison W. Preston had playing experi ence at two colleges and athletic director dutie before coming to Chapel Hill in Carolina's "new look."



Pat Preston

A native North Carolinian from Thomasville, Preston was a schoolboy star at Thomasville Orphanage before becoming an all-time great at Wake Forest as a tackle. Then, in the Marine V-12, he moved over to Duke for his senior year and was named on the All-America team.

After his discharge from the service, Pat was an outstanding guard for the Chicago Bears professional team, world champion i 1946. George Halas, owner-coach of the Bears called Preston one of the hardest hitting lineme he had ever seen.

Preston joined the Wake Forest coaching staf in 1951, serving as line coach, end coach, talen recruiter and scout. In an athletic upheaval a Baptist Hollow, he was named athletic directo in 1954 and was serving in that capacity whe brought to Carolina by Tatum.

He is married and has two sons and a daughte

JIM HICKEY (William and Mary '42): Before joining Jim Tatum's all-new coaching staff at Carolina, James B. Hickey had a five-year tenure at Hampden-Sydney College. He was five years head coach there and four years athletic director, in addition.

Jim Hickey

Hickey was named "Coach of the Year" in Virginia for the second consecutive year in 1955 when his team had an 8-1 record. Its only loss was to Randolph-Macon in a game that decided the Mason-Dixon conference championship.

Hickey had two conference championships to his credit during his five years. His teams won the title in 1953 and 1954.

Five years of highly successful coaching at John Marshall high school at Richmond, Va., stamped him as one of the nation's outstanding young coaches. He went to Hampden-Sydney from John Marshall.

A native of Springdale, Pa., Hickey attended William and Mary and was a tailback for three years under Carl Voyles. Light for his position, he drew praise from Voyles for his cleverness and brain work. He served in the Navy before going into coaching. He is married, has three daughters, and has bought a home in Chapel Hill.

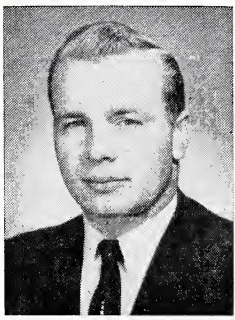
He hails from Essington, Pa., where he was a star lineman.

A Marine veteran, he matriculated at Maryland in 1952 and played three years of varsity football, missing only the 1954 season when he was red-shirted for the year with an injury.

Coach Jim Tatum called on him for coaching service that year. He worked with the freshman linemen.



Fred Tullai

Tullai was a center in high school and played both center and guard at Maryland as one of the top men in the conference.

In addition to his college experience as a player, Fred was a standout service player.

He is married to the former Twilda Bender of Wakeeney, Kansas, and have an infant daughter.

Mends The Wounds

Like all successful head football coaches, Jim Tatum lays great store by his training department and considers able work in the treatment room of prime importance.

One of his first moves was to install John E Lacey as head footbal trainer. Lacey had been a assistant trainer under Ta tum at Maryland and th latter felt that he was th man in his reorganizatio plans at Chapel Hill.

John Lacey

Lacey had wide exper ience before going to Mary land. For three years h was an assistant trainer at Yale. He was als trainer for the Chicago Cards, the New Yor Yanks and the Baltimore Colts in pro football.

A friendly, affable person, quiet John won ove the football squad during spring practice. He i one of the best-liked members of Tatum's all-new staff. He is married but has no children.

Assistant Trainer

Henry Read, Carolina's new assistant football trainer, is one of the most versatile members o Coach Tatum's staff.

Read came to Chapel Hill from Hampden-Sydney College where he worked under Assistan Coach Jim Hickey, then Director of Athletics there.

Read, a member of the Class of 1951, was on Hickey's staff while he was an undergraduate. When he received his A. B. degree he remained on the staff full time.

Henry Read

He was the college's athletic trainer and, in addition, did secretarial work and even handled publicity. Hickey recommended him highly for the job here.

Read is a native of Warrenton, N.C. He has a brother, Finley, who i scheduled to be on the N.C. State College footbal squad this fall, following discharge from the serv ice.

Read is unmarried, the only bachelor o Tatum's staff.

"The New Look"

Carolina's Prospects

It will be a "new look" in football at Carolina this year.

The coming of Jim Tatum as head coach with a group of bright young men as assistants, comprising a completely new staff, has given the Tar Heels a tremendous lift.

Tatum inherited a squad strikingly well blessed in backfield talent, including such speedsters as Ed Sutton, Larry McMullen, Buddy Sasser, sophomore Emil DeCantis, Joe Temple, Giles Gacas and Don Lear, but one with line weaknesses, especially at tackle.

Up and down the land, during the summer, Tatum admitted amazement over the skills of these backfield men and expressed pleasure over the enthusiasm the entire squad showed in spring practice. "This squad showed more progress in 20 days of spring practice than any I have ever coached," he said. "These boys are hungry to win."

He considers as practically licked North Carolina's old bugaboo, the quarterback position. Through some strange magic, David Reed, who handled the chore most of last season and wound up with a minus rushing average, in the "new look" suddenly became a first rate operative. His options worked, including the keeps. He threw, long and short, with stellar marksmanship. He called his plays craftily.

Reed will be backed by a sparkling sophomore, Curtis Hathaway, and Doug Farmer, a former reservist not out last season. Tatum thinks his quarterbacking will be okay, possibly outstanding. And the loyalists who watched them perform in the spring Blue-White game quickly lend agreement.

Sutton is the golden boy among the halfbacks. He averaged 6.7 yards per carry last season, 11.2 the season before. There is no telling what he might do this autumn, given more acute direction and over-all collaboration by his mates. He has definitely stamped himself as being of All-American calibre.

McMullen conceivably could go even farther, if he can escape the injuries which have so consistently dogged his career. Buddy Sasser has been moved to halfback, where he seems much more comfortable. At times he has looked like a carbon copy of the great Charlie Justice. Sophomore Emil DeCantis, who runs like mad all the time, is still another ball carrier of exceptional ability. Gaca and Lear will have a merry battle for the fullback post and both are tops. There are others.

Ends should be highly competent, headed by

Buddy Payne, Larry Muschamp, Darden Livesay Paul Pullen and Vince Olen.

Four lettermen are listed in the guard slot although three of them earned their monogram at other positions. This quartet consists of John Jones, Jim Jones, Hap Setzer and Howard Williams. Several promising sophomores fortify the guard post.

Stewart Pell, the most talked about lineman on the squad and certain to be one of the nation's finest, was shifted back to his old position, tackle during the summer manipulations. He worked a center during the spring and did an outstanding job. Pell, a transfer student with service experience, was ineligible last season. He is a tremendous 230-pounder, 6-3 tall.

Tackle may be the question mark but Pell will help solve that problem. John Bilich and Dick Smith are lettermen, and two fellows red-shirted last year with injuries, Phil Blazer and big Leo Russavage, have high potential. Sonny Forbes has been shifted to tackle and his speed will help.

The Tar Heels, regarded as a slow team the past few seasons, look to have speed to spare in the "new look."

Their adherents, even their coaches, may be too optimistic, but certainly this team will be greatly improved. No miracles are expected in facing the identical back-breaking schedule of last season, but Carolina's football lovers expect to have a little fun this season.

Last year the team won only three while losing seven. It has been buried deep in a cycle of defeats since the glittering Charlie Justice era (1946-1949).

EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

Alumni provide funds for grants-in-aid for football players, and some in other sports, at Carolina through the Educational Foundation, one of the recognized and approved Foundations of the University. Grants-in-aid are issued in accordance with the rules of the NCAA and the Atlantic Coast Conference. Recipients are given an extra special screening. Scholarships, for both entrance and remaining in school, is the key to these grants.

FORMER DIRECTORS

Cast of Characters

ENDS

BUDDY PAYNE, 20, 6-3, 210, Junior, Norfolk Va. An All-State, All-Southern and All-America at Maury High School where he also starred in basketball and baseball. A starter last year and a demon on defense. A knee operation last spring may slow him down this season. A member of the Tar Heel track team. A pre-med student.

LARRY MUSCHAMP, 22, 6-2, 195, Senior Rome, Ga. Seems to have won the left end position vacated by All-ACC performer Will Frye. An All-State performer at Rome High School. An education major. Especially good on offense.

PAUL PULLEY, 20, 6-2, 193, Junior, Durham N. C. Might be a starter if Payne's leg is not in shape. An All-State and All-America at Durham High School where he also starred in basketball and baseball. A business administration major.

DARDEN LIVESAY, 22, 6-2, 194, Senior, Emporia, Va. An All-State Group II selection at Emporia High School. Saw a lot of action last year and was impressive on offense. Plans to be an accountant.

VINCE OLEN, 24, 6-2, 210, Junior, Swoyerville, Pa. A real hustler. Broke hand in spring drills, but should be ready for a full season. Played sparingly last year after a fine freshman season.

WALLY VALE, 20, 6-0, 185, Sophomore, Farmville, Va. Averaged 4.4 yards per carry in 10 attempts last season at fullback. Punted 12 times for 43.8 average, and gained special praise for his great quick kicks from the T-formation. Will probably do most of the punting this season.

BILL ELLINGTON, 27, 6-3½ 205, Senior, High Point, N. C. Played end and quarterback on freshman team. An All-State basketball player at High Point High School. Majoring in business administration.

BERNIE DONATELLI, 20, 6-2, 200, Sophomore, Spangler, Pa. An all-star performer at Spangler High being chosen on all-county and all-scholastic teams. A business administration major.

CHARLES SHELTON, 23, 6-3, 194, Sophomore, Winston-Salem, N. C. Opens his first year for the Tar Heel varsity after playing football in the Air Force for three years. Played frosh ball last fall. Is majoring in television and plans a career in television production. Graduate of R. J. Reynolds High School.

TAKEY CRIST, 19, 6-3, 203, Sophomore, Jacksonville, N. C. Played tackle on freshman team. Voted most valuable lineman at Jacksonville High School. Plans to study medicine.

CLYDE TURLINGTON, 20, 6-1, 202, Sophomore, Dunn, N. C. A graduate of Dunn High School and presently a phys ed major. Played in North Carolina East-West All-Star game last summer. Running right end and may move up before fall season opens.

TACKLES

STEWART PELL, 24, 6-3, 230, Junior, Lykens, Pa. Played freshman ball at Shippensberg State Teachers College in Pennsylvania. Served four years in the Navy and was selected to the All-Navy team as a tackle. Has two years eligibility left. Considered All-America material.

DICK SMITH, 21, 6-1, 195, Junior, Pottsville, Pa. Was a star tackle at Pottsville High School and Massanutten Military Academy where he was chosen lineman of the year. Played a lot last year and apparently will be a starter on the right side. Plans to be a geologist.

PHIL BLAZER, 20, 6-1, 210, Junior, Whitaker, Pa. Held out last season because of an injury. Considered one of the most promising linemen on the team. Honorable mention All-State at Munhall High School.

SONNY FORBES, 21, 6-2, 220, Junior, Va. Beach, Va. Played end on freshman team. A big boy. Majoring in history.

LEO RUSSAVAGE, 19, 6-4, 234, Junior, Duryea, Pa. The biggest man on the team. Held out last season because of leg injury, but should see plenty of action this season. An all-league performer at Duryea High School. Majoring in business administration.

FRED SWEARINGEN, 18, 6-1½, 227, Sophomore, Petersburg, Va. A very good prospect. All-American and All-State at Petersburg High School. A big boy with a lot of hustle. A business administration major.

STANLEY LEFTWICH, 25, 6-1, 220, Junior, Mt. Airy, N. C. A big fellow who may break into the lineup. Has shifted between guard and tackle. Played in North Carolina East-West game. Hopes to study law.

DONALD REDDING, 19, 6-3, 200, Sophomore, Asheboro, N. C. An All-State, and All-Southern performer at Asheboro High School. Played in Shrine Bowl. Has played end and fullback. A business major.

JOHN BILICH, 21, 6-2, 218, Senior, Aliquippa, Pa. A starter last year and the big man on the left side of the line this season. Vice-President of the Carolina Athletic Association. A business administration major.

TOM MAULTSBY, 22, 6-0, 212, Senior, Chapel Hill. Tom is a big, strong, three-year squad man brother of Jack, who was a star on last year's team. He has seen action in the past but not sufficiently enough to earn a letter. Spent the summer conducting a boys camp on the campus and should be in good shape. Lacks only speed to make him top flight. Baseball letterman.

GUARDS

JIM JONES, 20, 6-2, 185, Junior, Greensboro, N. C. Started several games at center last year, but has been shifted to guard and will probably be a starter. An All-State, All-Southern, All-America selection at Greensboro High. Was chosen outstanding player in North Carolina All-Star game. Plans to study dentistry.

JOHN JONES, 22, 6-2, 211, Senior, Richmond, Va. Has played guard and tackle. Saw a lot of action last year. Throws shot and discus for track team. Played at Sanford, N. C. High before moving to Richmond. Had a fine record at Greenbrier Military School in West Virginia.

HAP SETZER, 20, 5-11, 205, Junior, Lenoir, N. C. All-State for three years at Lenoir High School where he also starred in basketball and baseball. Played a lot of ball last season and will probably repeat this year.

HOWIE WILLIAMS, 20, 6-3, 195, Junior, Hertford, N. C. Averaged 7.5 yards as a fullback last season. Shifted to guard this year. He runs hard and fast. In high school he made All-America, All-State, and All-Conference teams.

RAY KRYZAK, 20, 5-11, 213, Sophomore, Charleston, W. Va. Had a fine season on freshman team. An All-State and All-Southern guard while at Charleston High and Greenbrier Military Academy.

ALMOND SHEW, 19, 6-2, 185, Sophomore, Clinton, N. C. Has played end and guard. While at Clinton High he played in East-West Game and was chosen on the All-Southeastern team. A physical education major.

NED FENTON, 18, 5-10, 200, Sophomore, Salem, N. J. Chosen on All-South Jersey team at Salem High School. Played on freshman team. Plans to major in business administration.

GLENN DAUGHTRY, 20, 5-10, 185, Junior, Durham, N. C. Was shifted to guard after trying out at halfback. Played a little last season. An All-Conference performer at Mount Olive High. A physical education major.

CENTERS

GEORGE STAVNITSKI, 22, 6-1, 210, Senior, Fairfield, Conn. An alternate starter last year. Was one of the most promising linemen to enter UNC. An All-State choice at Cheshire Academy. A good line backer and fine all-around player.

JACK LLEWELLYN, 19, 6-0, 185, Junior, Kingston, Pa. A good man to have on the bench. He is fast and a real hustler. Played well as a freshman, but saw little action last year.

RONALD KOES, 19, 6-2, 210, Sophomore, Dunbar, Pa. Played well as a freshman. Hails from the same hometown Tar Heel tackle Leo Russavage comes from. Hopes to go into coaching.

BILL HARDISON, 20, 6-1, 188, Sophomore, Edenton, N. C. Chosen outstanding player at Edenton High for two years. Played in North Carolina East-West game. Plans to major in physical education and enter coaching.

DONNIE SMITH, 20, 6-0, 190, Sophomore, Albemarle, N. C. An All-Conference, All-State, All-Southern back at Albemarle High. Chosen the best back in the East-West All-Star Game. A good runner and fine all-around player.

QUARTERBACKS

DAVE REED, 20, 6-0, 160, Junior, Shamokin, Pa. An alternate starter last season, he should be the number one choice this year. Completed 25 of 73 passes for 418 yards last season. Has improved tremendously. Made All-State team at Shamokin High School in 1952.

CURTIS HATHAWAY, 21, 6-0, 190, Sophomore, Norfolk, Va. Looked real good on the freshman team and Coach Tatum calls him "a splendid quarterback." Should see a lot of action playing behind Reed. An All-State selection at Maury High School and Fork Union Military Academy. A good runner and fine passer.

RON MARQUETTE, 19, 6-2, 185, Junior, Pennsville, N. J. Played well last year before being injured in an early game. Completed 2 of 5 passes. A big man, which might give him an edge in the race for a starting position. An All-Tri-County performer at Salem High School for two years.

DOUG FARMER, 21, 5-11, 168, Senior, Pulaski, Va. Did not play last year, but saw some action in 1954 completing six of nine passes. A good man to have around. Plans to study for the ministry.

HALFBACKS

ED SUTTON, 21, 6-1, 194, Senior, Cullowhee, N. C. The team's leading ground gainer last year averaging 6.7 yards. A Morehead Scholar and President of the Carolina Athletic Association. Coach Tatum calls him "one of the best halfbacks in the country." A real fast boy and dash man on the track team. A pre-med student.

LARRY McMULLEN, 21, 6-1, 197, Senior, Lumberton, N. C. A big, fast strong ball player. Broke his leg in spring practice, but should be ready for the season. A hard runner who saw limited action last season. Might be a starter if his leg is ready. An All-Stater while at Lumberton High.

BUDDY SASSER, 20, 5-11, 155, Junior, Conway, S. C. The starting quarterback for most of last season. He has been shifted to halfback to take advantage of his speed and deceptive running. Voted outstanding player in South Carolina and an All-America selection at Conway High.

EMIL DeCANTIS, 20, 5-10, 178, Sophomore, Scranton, Pa. Alternated between quarterback and halfback on freshman team. Has real speed and showed great potential in spring practice. A dashman on the freshman track team. An All-State choice at West Scranton High School. Majoring in radio and television.

DICK DARLING, 21, 6-0, 196, Junior, Elizabeth City, N. C. Saw a limited amount of action last year, but averaged six yards per carry. A hard runner with a lot of drive. An All-Eastern selection at Elizabeth City High School.

STEVE KUPCHICK, 20, 5-10, 175, Junior, Scranton, Pa. Carried the ball only once last year for six yards. A good line-buster and especially good on defense. Captain of his Olyphant High School team and President of the Senior Class.

DALEY GOFF, 20, 5-11, 177, Junior, Dunn, N. C. Another Morehead scholar. Played quarterback on last year's squad. A shifty, alert runner. An All-State back at Dunn High School.

DAN DROZE, 20, 5-10, 170, Junior, Washington, D. C. Chosen the outstanding player in the Washington Metropolitan area in 1955 to go along with many other high school honors. A good prospect.

FRANK BERRY, 25, 5-10, 180, Junior, Fayetteville, N. C. A four year veteran in the Air Force. A member of the squad last season. A smooth runner. Played in East-West basketball game in 1950.

JIM VARNUM, 20, 6-0, 170, Junior, Supply, N. C. Played sparingly last season and gained 30 yards in three carries. An extra fast man who stars on the track team in the dashes. A good prospect. Chosen on the Eastern All-Star team in high school.

CHARLES REED, 19, 6-0, 182, Sophomore, Sylva, N. C. Had a good year as a freshman. Made the All-Western team for two years. Plans to study dentistry.

FULLBACKS

GILES GACA, 19, 6-1½, 200, Junior, West Mifflin, Pa. He may have won the starting berth this season. One of the finest runners on the team. Saw limited action last season, but was considered an outstanding blocker.

DON LEAR, 21, 5-11, 180, Senior, Hatboro, Pa. Averaged 5.3 yards as a starter last season and lost only one yard all year: A hard runner with a lot of potential. Chosen the most valuable player on the squad while at Hatboro High School.

JOHN HAYWOOD, 20, 6-0, 200, Norfolk, Va. Saw very little action last season, but might play a lot more next season. A fine, hard runner. An All-Stater at South Norfolk High, and a fine baseball player in high school.

JOE TEMPLE, 20, 5-11, 180, Junior, Valdese, N. C. Averaged 4.5 yards per carry last season alternating between the first and second team. A dangerous and hard runner. He is also a standout baseball player. An All-State and All-Southern performer at Valdese High School.

Source of News

Jake Wade, veteran newspaper man, has been Director of Sports Publicity at the University of North Carolina since 1946, having arrived on the scene with Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice.

Prior to that Jake was sports editor of the Charlotte Observer for 16 years. He also worked in sports and in the news department, in various capacities, on a number of other newspapers.

While in Charlotte, Jake wrote a daily sports column which was one of the most popular features of the paper. He still writes a Sunday feature page column for the Observer.

Jake has written for a number of national magazines, including Collier's, the Saturday Evening Post and Esquire.

Jake's press parties, at which his wife, Hamlin, is the gracious hostess, have received wide acclaim. The Wades have three children, two sons and a daughter, all married, and three grandchildren. Jake Jr. and Ham both graduated at Davidson College, where they played football.

Jake is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, Class of 1923. He was editor of the Tar Heel, student newspaper, and prominent in student affairs. His organizations included the Golden Fleece, the campus' highest honorary society.

JIM JONES (G)
Junior . . 6-2 . . 190

Has come along fast at guard . . . Strong, quick, ever ready

All-Star Check List

Halfback Ed Sutton, who has been a brilliant runner ever since he achieved varsity stature as a sophomore, showed such tremendous all-round progress last spring that he stamped himself as definitely of 1956 All-America calibre.

The "Cullowhee Comet" has played many sensational games on losing Carolina teams. He averaged 11.2 yards per carry in 1954, 6.7 last season. In the 1956 spring game, he scored three touchdowns, including one on a 90-yard kickoff return. He has flaming speed and also tremendous power, being as strong off the guards as around the ends, and tough enough to take the punishments required up the middle.

Stewart Pell, a transfer who was ineligible last is huge and powerful (6-3, 210) and could be one of the nation's best, whether used at center or tackle. He played center in the spring but has been moved to his old tackle post.

Buddy Payne, junior from Norfolk, has the finesse of all great ends, a marvelous physique and all the other attributes for his position. His knee operation in the spring apparently was successful. If he has no trouble from that, 6-3, 210-pound Buddy will be a big man in college football this season.

Giles Gaca, a 210-pound fullback who was used sparingly as a sophomore, is picked by his coaches as certain of stardom. Gaca, who showed in the Blue-White game what a mighty man he is, should be on all ACC All-Star check lists.

David Reed learned a lot about quarterbacking last year. And last spring, with special instruction from ex-Maryland and pro quarterback Jack Scarbath, he was improved 75 per cent with a completely "new look." He throws both short and long with equal ability. Coach Tatum thinks he should be one of the nation's best.

Jim Jones will be a junior guard of extraordinary potential. He is strong, agile and fast. Keep your eyes on him.

Along with the tremendous Pell, among the newcomers, those apparently with greatest promise include halfback Emil DeCantis, a great runner, and quarterback Curtis Hathaway.

1956 PROSPECTS

The Wolfpack is looking for one of its best seasons in recent years, despite a schedule that has been strengthened considerably since 1955 when State compiled a 4-5-1 record. All four teams which the 'Pack defeated have been dropped from the card and Maryland, Penn State, Dayton, Clemson and South Carolina have been added.

The 1956 eleven, the third under the Earle Edwards regime, will feature a lightning-fast backfield spearheaded by Dick Christy, an All-America candidate who averaged 7.1 yards each time he carried the ball as a sophomore. Christy will have help from Dick Hunter, who romped for eight touchdowns last year; George (Wagon Wheels) Marinkov, Tony Guerrieri, Mike Miller, Ken Nye and Ken Trowbridge. Finding a quarterback to run State's tricky multiple offense will be Coach Edwards' number one problem. If any of the five candidates come through, the odds look good for a successful year on the gridiron. Several promising soph linemen will add depth to the forward wall where Ends John Collar and John Lowe, tackles John Szuchan and Dick DeAngelis, guards Julius Compton and Francis Tokar and center Jim Oddo will be found. In all, 20 lettermen return to the 69-man squad, including 35 sophs, 21 juniors and only 13 seniors.

1956 PROSPECTS

The outlook for Oklahoma in 1956 must be considered good. The Sooners return six starters from last year's national championship team and 10 players from its No. 2 or alternate unit. Coach Bud Wilkinson and his staff must replace four stellar linemen and the right halfback on the No. 1 team. Graduated last spring were all-American guard Bo Bolinger, end Joe Mobra, guard Cecil Morris, tackle Calvin Woodworth and right half Bob Burris. OU also lost alternate team tackle Eldon Loughridge by graduation. On the bright side of the picture, however, is the return of three-fourths of 1955's starting backfield and 28 lettermen. The Sooners will probably have the best all-around depth of any of Wilkinson's teams at Oklahoma. At least two lettermen are available at every position and only two or three sophomores are given a chance to break into the first or second team. Regulars returning are quarterback Jimmy Harris, all-American halfback Tommy McDonald and fullback Billy Pricer in the backfield and end John Bell, tackle Ed Gray and center Jerry Tubbs in the line. Expected to move up from the alternate team to fill the first-team vacancies are Clendon Thomas at right half, guards Bill Krisher and Ken Northcutt, a converted center, tackle Tom Emerson and end Bob Timberlake. Other alternate team members returning are end Don Stiller, tackle Wayne Greenlee, quarterback Jay O'Neal, halfback Carl Dodd and fullback Dennit Morris. Top sophomore prospects moving up are Jakie Sandefer, fleet-footed 165-pound halfback, quarterback Lonnie Holland and center Bob Harrison.

UNC won 22, USC won 5, Tied 4.

1956 PROSPECTS

South Carolina faces a tough schedule in Duke, North Carolina, Miami, Clemson and Maryland, and ambitious considering they have only 16 returning lettermen from a team that won only three of its nine games last year.

However, there's some "new blood" in the Carolina camp. Warren Giese, Jim Tatum's assistant at Maryland, took over Rex Enright's duties early this year when Enright retired to devote full time to his job as athletic director. Giese brought with him Ralph Floyd and Marvin Bass, Tar Heel assistants. These young men put fire and zeal into the Gamecocks.

Coupled with the USC "spirit of '56" movement is the graduation of a fine freshman team to the varsity. At least two of these—center Lawton Rogers and halfback King Dixon—are expected to make the starting team. The others make up the greater part of the reserves. Of the first 33 men, 26 Gamecocks are either juniors or sophomores.

1956 PROSPECTS

Wallace Butts' eighteenth University of Georgia football team will be the youngest he has fielded, except during the war years of 1943-45. Of the varsity squad of 44 men 21 are sophomores, 12 juniors and 11 seniors.

In spite of the obvious inexperience on this squad prospects are good for Georgia to field its best all-round offensive and defensive teams since 1948.

Graduation took 1955 regulars from five positions: Len Spadafino and Don Shea, guards; Bill Saye, center; Jimmy Harper and Dick Young, quarterbacks; and Captain Bobby Garrard, fullback.

Returning regulars are at six positions: Roy Wilkins, LE; Laneair Roberts, RE; John Luck, LT; Pud Mosteller, RT; Jefferson Davis, LH; Jimmy Orr, RH. The 1953 regular at center, Harold Deen Cook, also will be back in the lineup after a two years' absence.

Butts has two genuine all-star candidates in big Roy Wilkins at left end, whom he rates as one of the greatest defensive ends he has ever seen, and Jimmy Orr, sensational pass-receiver at right half. Orr led the SEC in receiving last year and Tar Heel fans will remember Wilkins for setting up all four Georgia scores against Carolina in Athens. —Dan Magill

1956 PROSPECTS

There is no use kidding anybody—Maryland will have another fine football team this fall. It will compare to those of the past five seasons that only lost four games and tied one during the regular season.

When Jim Tatum resigned as head coach, his backfield coach, Tommy Mont, was named as his successor. Following nine years of the greatest football in the land under Tatum, Mont realized he faced an extraordinary challenge. Young, capable and ambitious he was ready for it.

Although 13 lettermen were graduated, including All-Americans Bob Pellegrini and Ed Vereb, 23 old stars are returning. The squad, which may be one of the best ever assembled here, also inherited the aces of an undefeated freshman team of last year. It looked fine in spring practice.

Two brilliant linemen, All-America candidates, head up the cast. They are tackle Mike Sandusky and guard Jack Davis. The squad is well heeled in great line talent.

Fullback Tom Selep, injured last season, sparks what could be the Terp's finest backfield of recent seasons.

1956 PROSPECTS

The lack of experience and depth, especially in the forward wall, mark the Wake Forest Demon Deacons as a big question in this year's football wars. Paul Amen, former assistant at West Point, who is starting out on his first head coaching job, has only 13 boys who have ever played in a varsity contest, and only one who drew a starting assignment in all 10 games last season. Bill Barnes, the most under-rated halfback in the ACC last year, is the lone returnee who was a starter in all games during 1955, and end Ralph Brewster is the only other squad member who was considered a regular at the end of the season. Twenty-nine of the 50 players who took part in the spring drills came up from last fall's freshman club which went winless in five outings. The boys being counted on to carry most of the load this year are quarterback Charlie Carpenter, halfbacks Barnes, Jim Dalrymple and Dick Daniels, ends Brewster, David Lee and Jack Ladner, tackle George Johnson, guards Jim Horn and Bo Claxton and center Eddie Moore.

1956 PROSPECTS

Tennessee's 1956 football team will face the toughest schedule ever encountered by a Vol football team. Their 1956 schedule (which includes five bowl teams) was selected by a conference poll as the most difficult schedule of any team in the league. In addition to their rough conference schedule the Vols also play the perennial powers of the Atlantic Coast Conference—Maryland, Duke, and rejuvenated North Carolina.

Tennessee lost 8 veteran lettermen from their 1955 squad but have 22 returning lettermen. Chief losses from last year's squad include guard Charlie Coffey, center Lamar Leachman, blocking back Jim Beutel, and extra point specialist Tommy Priest who kicked 15 out of 15 attempts for an all time school record. Heading the array of returning lettermen is John "Drum" Majors, the Vols diminutive tailback who was selected by the SEC coaches as the most valuable player in the league in 1955. Majors was selected on the pre-season all-conference team and is Tennessee's leading contender for national honors in 1956. End Buddy Cruze, Tennessee's leading pass receiver last season, was also selected on the pre-season all-conference team. In tackle John Gordy, captain-elect of the 1956 team, the Vols have one of the most versatile tackles in the league if not the entire country.

1956 PROSPECTS

Virginia has no damaging personnel losses to report and the '56 squad will present several bright new prospects for sophomore fame. The offensive keynoter will again be Jim Bakhtiar, whose ball-carrying record as a sophomore last year was the best for a Virginia back since John Papit finished in 1950. Also returning as a likely backfield starter is Ralph Kneeland, second ranking ground-gainer for the '55 season. Two sophomores expected to displace other lettered backs are Reece Whitley, an outstanding football player in the T-quarterbacking assignment, and Jimmy Roberson, ball-carrying leader of last year's freshman team. The line, big and experienced, has such superior players as Henry Jordan, Ron Melnik, Harold Outten and Jim Keyser.

1956 PROSPECTS

Graduation takes its toll among college football teams, and that is particularly the situation at Notre Dame this year, if one is to think in terms of prospects for the coming fall campaign.

Of the 11 starters whom Coach Terry Brennan sent against Southern California in the 1955 finale, eight have been graduated. The three returning regulars are: Captain Jimmy Morse, halfback; Dick Prendergast, left end; and Paul Hornung, quarterback. Prendergast is a junior, the other two are seniors.

All told, 16 monogram winners have departed, 14 return.

Morse, the team captain, was moved from right to left half during the 20 days of spring practice. Other returning monogram halfbacks are Dean Studer, Sherrill Sipes, and Bobby Ward, seniors; and Dick Lynch and Aubrey Lewis, halfbacks.

Quarterback will be the strongest spot for the Irish. Not only does Hornung, who won All-American honors last year, return, but also his replacement, Larry Cooke. Both boys are seniors.

Fullback constitutes one of Coach Brennan's biggest problems. All-American Don Schaefer has been graduated. He will be missed both for his running and for his excellent blocking.

When six of seven line regulars have departed, a coach can anticipate real trouble. And that is the situation for Brennan with reference to the Irish line. Prendergast, at left end, who is a junior, is the lone returnee. It is almost a certainty that Brennan will have to depend on three or four sophomores—which means a very inexperienced forward wall.

1956 PROSPECTS

Thirteen lettermen, seven of them starters, are gone from last year's co-champion ACC Blue Devils, but 20 lettermen in addition to several boys coming up from the non-playing reserves will supply Coach Bill Murray with a good crop of material.

Duke will be big—the heftiest squad Murray has had in the five years he has been at Duke. For the most part, however, the personnel will be inexperienced in game competition.

Duke is now playing the type of schedule where no team expects to win them all but, as in the past, the Blue Devils expect to win the respect of its opponents and the praise of the spectators.

Heading the list of men is quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, a possible All-American selection. The Wilmington red-head is by far the best in the South and his presence will make Duke a top-flight team. Tackle Sid Deloatch, captain and end, Buddy Bass, end Bill Thompson, fullback Harold McElhaney, and guard Roy Hord, all are the "Best."

The Playground

In a natural valley about two thousand feet from the center of the campus of the University and just above the spot long known as the Meeting of the Waters, there is a natural amphitheatre, easily approached by paths that follow the lay of the land. The brook that flows through this valley has cut a ravine so that the floor of the stream is level and smooth and the banks rise with equal steepness on either side.

Here is the site of Kenan Memorial Stadium. In the completeness and harmony of its appointments, the convenience of its seating, and the beauty of its design and location, Kenan Memorial Stadium is unique among the stadia of America.

The stadium, truly one of Chapel Hill's beauty spots, was a gift of William Rand Kenan, Jr., a distinguished and loyal son of the University of the Class of 1894, and constructed as a memorial to his mother, Mary (Hargrave), and his father, William Rand Kenan.

The original cost was $275,000, but the property is valued at many more times that figure now, of course. After the stadium proper was built, a field house was added at one end of the field, where both the visiting and home teams dress for games.

Construction of the stadium was begun in November, 1926, and completed in August, 1927. The first football game played there was between Carolina and Davidson on Nov. 12. However, the formal opening and dedication did not take place until the game with Virginia on Thanksgiving Day. The Tar Heels won by 14-13.

The stadium, as originally built, seated 24,000. For many years, however, an ingenious arrangement for portable grandstands, used for all the games, has increased the capacity to 43,917 seats. On occasions even this capacity has been increased, and games with Virginia, Duke, Notre Dame and Texas have accommodated as many as 46,000.

On one side of the stadium is a guest box, used by Trustees of the University and other special guests. The press box, of similar outward design, is located on the other side, directly opposite. Gifts from Mr. Kenan enabled a complete rebuilding of these structures in 1950. The new press box is of unique design, different from the sprawling press boxes in most big college statia. It is very compact and highly functional for reporters, radio men and photographers and has been highly praised for its beauty and utility.

The stadium is used primarily for football games but on occasions other functions are held there, including the annual Commencement exercises of the University, conducted in the twilight.

Some Highlights

Long runs—In 1946 Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice made long runs for touchdowns as follows:

Against Virginia Tech, 68 from scrimmage; against Miami, 66 from scrimmage; against Florida, 90 with a kickoff and 70 with a punt; against Tennessee, 74 from scrimmage; against Virginia, 54, 45, and 18 from scrimmage to win the Southern Conference scoring championship. In addition, against Wake Forest he ran 62 from scrimmage to set up a touchdown.

National Records—Charlie Justice set national NCAA career punting average record, 42.5 (1946-1949); Art Weiner tied national NCAA record for pass receiving, 52, in 1949; Charlie Justice set national NCAA total offense career record, regular season, 5,175 (1946-1949).

The University

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill was chartered in 1789 and first opened its doors to students in 1795.

It therefore claims to be the oldest state university in the nation, disputed by the University of Georgia. Georgia's charter was signed in 1785 but did not begin operation until 1801.

Joseph Caldwell was the first President of the University. He was a graduate of Princeton, and some of the Princeton ideas of the times became a part of the way of education at Chapel Hill.

The University grew and became a center of intellectual and cultural life in the state. Its alumni were leaders of the state, and many of them gave property and money for the upbuilding of the University—funds in addition to the basic support by the Legislature.

Although the University remained open during the Civil War, it could not survive the ravages of Reconstruction, and was closed for several years in the 1870's, re-opened finally when Carpetbaggers were voted out of the Legislature and out of power in North Carolina. Kemp P. Battle became the new President.

The University after the beginning of the 20th Century was staffed with faculty and administrative leadership that placed Chapel Hill in the forefront among leading universities of the nation. Under the leadership of men like Francis Preston Venable, Edwin Anderson Alderman, Edward K. Graham, Harry W. Chase and Frank P. Graham, the standards of achievement and spirit of academic freedom and liberty put Chapel Hill in a special place in the estimation of educators.

In the past decade since World War II, UNC has undergone a period of rapid expansion, both in physical plant and in enrollment. There has been a period of growing pains, and this era which is not yet over poses some basic questions of academic achievement, growing student population, finances, and other problems. Under the presidency of Gordon Gray, many of these problems were boldly met.
